

Christmas Packages for the Troops

Press release, December 16, 2009: Eastern Carolina Vocational Center Pre-Voc clients along with Pitt Community College Comp Ed students recently created 65 Christmas cards to send to the troops along with 65 one gallon zip lock bags filled with snacks, batteries and other non-perishable items. The project was part of the local NC Branch of "Give 2 The Troops." The clients participated in this project because they wanted to show that they truly appreciated the military for the sacrifices they make for our country.

ECVC, which operates the Servmart at Cherry Point, is a company with the social mission of helping people with disabilities attain a higher quality of life through achievement of their vocational goals. ECVC was established in 1965.